Watch the Times for the programme of the grand concert to be given at the Barre opera house Saturday evening, Oct. 7th, by Miss Tina Crawford, the famous contralto and Miss Agnes Hyde, reader and impersonator. Assisted by the Barclay Sisters (Highland dancers). Tickets are now on sale by the amusement committee of Clan Gordon and will go on sale at the Red Cross Pharmacy Thursday morning, Oct. 5th, and will continue on sale there until six o'clock Saturday evening, Oct. 7th. Admission 25, 35 and 50 cents. This is what the Catholic Observer says: "Miss Crawford has a fine contralto voice and knows well how to use it. Her rendering of 'Dark Lochnagar', 'Eileen Alannah', and 'Come Back to Erin', drew loud outbursts of applause from the large audience. Her pronunciation is so perfect that every word could be heard at the furthest corner of the large auditorium, lending an additional charm to the excellent singing." Of Miss Hyde the Amesbury Daily, Mass. says: "Miss Hyde read 'The Cotter's Saturday Night' as we have never heard it before. Her expressions and gestures put an interpretation into this immortal poem that brought out every thought of the poet. Surely the praises of Miss Hyde cannot be sung too highly, for her rendering of every selection was done in the same masterly manner, bringing out round after round of applause."

Saloons and the Church Indifference.
What reasons are there to offer for indifference and silence as to the saloon? Too many do not realize how great and diffusive are the evils of intemperance, and therefore have faint conception of the tremendous importance of the temperance reform. What Superintendent Morrow said of Vermont is true everywhere of saloons and the church: "No man can say Vermont, or any town in Vermont, has profited in morals, manhood, or money by local saloons. The saloon has proved a demoralizing agency, a crime-producer, a business failure, a home-destroyer, the church's worst enemy, and man's unrelenting foe. You may build a church on every street, and make your religious organizations as complete as you will, but as long as you allow saloons to be open, you will make criminals faster than you can reclaim them."

Is not this all too sadly evident? "What John G. Holland said in 1872 is all the more true today: 'Men dread cholera, the yellow fever, and the small-pox, and take expensive precaution against it, while the ravages of all of them in one year do not produce the mischief that intemperance does in a month. It is worse than a plague, worse than fire or inundation or war. Nothing but sickness, death, immorality, crime, pauperism, and a frightful waste of resources comes of it. Nothing noble is born of it. Meantime our public men are timid about it, our children are half indifferent over it, our scientific men dispute about the nutritive properties of alcohol, our politicians utter wise things about personal rights and sumptuary laws, and the people are going to the devil.'"

Any preacher can easily assure himself that these two citations from the American Issue are below rather than above the truth; therefore the temperance question should take its rightful place in the thought and word and act of all whose duty it is to show the people their transgressions and to help destroy the defiant enemy of the church and the country.—The People.
